

Correspondence – Willington Power Station, trespassing

Willington Power Station - trespassing (information for parents and guardians)

We have been contacted by our local PCSO to say that that two female students aged between 13-15 were seen inside the fenced off Willington Power Station site by a local resident.

They had climbed through a gap in the fence and made their way onto a platform above the over flow pipes/river. The two girls exited the grounds and did not appear to have understood the seriousness of the situation they had just put themselves in.

We agreed with the PCSO to contact all parents of students living in the Willington area asking them to advise their children of the serious dangers of this behaviour. The site is incredibly dangerous and fenced off for public safety.

Thank you,
John Port Spencer Academy
